Artificial Ice Most Talked About Subject

Newmarket—“Artificial ice is the most talked about topic in Newmarket,” John O. Hines told the town council on Monday night. Mr. Hines, a member of the Newmarket Recreation Commission, attended the council meeting to pass on an invitation from the Collingwood town council to attend a junior B game at their new arena last night.

Two councillors made the trip along with members of the Recreation Commission and other interested citizens to inspect Collingwood's new artificial ice installation at the arena.

“The cost of the Collingwood artificial ice plant was $30,000 with an ice surface the size of Maple Leaf Gardens,” said Mr. Hines. “Newmarket arena has a smaller surface than this. The young people of Newmarket would like artificial ice and we think that the town deserves it. Now is a good time to start thinking about such a project for the town and if it were started now, we could have artificial ice by next year,” he said.

Councillors R. C. Morrison and Chas. VanZant went to the Collingwood game.

Lions Strengthen Rural Relations

Newmarket—Alex. McKinley, Brampton, a past president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, was the guest speaker at the Lions club Farmers' Night on Monday. Mr. McKinley spoke on rural-urban relations.

New members officially taken into the club and welcomed by President Chester Best were Robert Yates, Bill Dyer, Bill Warden, Ross VanDuzen, Sam Brookfield, Walter Hall, Horace Hiscox, George McCullough, Ken Morton and Mike McMorrow.

Mr. McKinley described the early days when it took 19 farmers to feed 20 people until the present when only 25 percent of the population is engaged in agriculture. Mr. McKinley is a farmer himself. “There are terrific accomplishments made with modern machinery,” he said. “We produce, in Canada, 40 percent more than we can consume. In western Canada, the value of machinery exceeds the value of livestock which shows how we are dependent on industry in the urban centres. We need the urban centres for our markets as the best market is right in our own country,” he said.

“Agriculture wants to see very prosperous urban communities where there are good wages and security. It ensures us of that market for our produce. You of the urban population need us. You need an efficient agriculture to produce a low-cost produce that will enable you to have industrial progress and it is significant now that Canada has about doubled her industry since the start of the war,” said Mr. McKinley.

“Agriculture is also your market,” he said. “In the northern part of U.S., it was discovered that out of every dollar, the farmer spent 70 cents on supplies with the remaining 30 percent going for salaries. The farmer does not spend as much on his family but he spends two and a half times as much as you when you consider what he spends on his farm.”

Members of the Lions club brought farmers as guests who were all introduced at the banquet.

James A. Taylor Buried At Sutton

James Alfred Taylor, Sutton West, died December 25 after an illness of four months. He was born at Queensville, April 15, 1886, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Taylor. He married Mary Elizabeth Park who predeceased him March 20, 1931.

He was a member of St. James' Anglican church and also the Malone Lodge (Mason), Sutton. His former occupation was funeral director and lumberman.

Surviving are two sons, W. J. Taylor, Richmond Hill, and Harvey H. Taylor, Sutton West, and four daughters, Mrs. Eldon C. Schmidt, Sutton West, Mrs. J. J. Monkmann (Fern), Toronto, Mrs. J. P. Goodhand (Grace), North Bay, and Miss Eva Taylor, Toronto. Also surviving are sisters, Mrs. William McCullough, Toronto, and Mrs. John Wallace, Moore Jaw.

Mr. Taylor had been, at one time, an enthusiastic lacrosse and cricket player. He was a lover of music. At 75 years of age he took up fine woodworking as a hobby. He was also interested in the Red Cross.

The funeral service was held at Sutton with Rev. W. Smith and Rev. E. A. Nichol in charge of the service. Interment was at Sutton Hill cemetery, Sutton.

Palbearers were Dr. Frank Lavigne, Toronto, William Marchant, Aurora, Sam Allen, Unionville, J. Miller McDonald, Frank Kaiser and Nelson Cronsberry.

MAKE NEW APPOINTMENTS
Aurora—The first regular meeting of Aurora's 1949 council was held in the council chambers on Monday evening. Council re-appointed Dr. James Urquhart to the high school board and Dr. E. J. Henderson to the board of health. Syd Davies was appointed to the public library board and Ross Linton to the board of York County Memorial hospital. It was also announced that a tag day would be held on Saturday, May 7, by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Lions Basket Fund Helped 61 Families

Newmarket—Sixty-one families were visited by members of the Lions club at Christmas with special baskets which meant treats to 164 children.

The total cost of the Basket Fund was $984.98 against contributions that have totalled, so far, $898. The average cost per basket was $16.15. Baskets consisted of clothing such as suits, dresses, underwear, stockings and mitts, groceries, such as corn syrup, peanut butter, oatmeal, chocolate, jam, pork and beans and jelly powders, and also candies, oranges, nuts and dates.

The contributions by Newmarket citizens helped 13 families with one child, 14 with two children, 12 with three children, eight with four children, eight with five children and two families with six children.

Smokers Cough As Prices Rise

Newmarket—Smokers are not pleased to hear the news that cigarette and pipe tobaccos in the half-pound have increased by five cents in price. Cigars are up one, one and a half, or two cents, depending on quality. So far there has been no increase in the price of cigarettes.

Percy Hutchinson, Newmarket dealer, said he received the new price list which was announced on January 10. He also quoted from a trade magazine which stated that Canadian tobacco growers have received record prices for tobacco in the last year. A considerable quantity of the new crop has been purchased for the British export market so the new increase in price can be attributed to some of these factors.

See Possibility Of Swimming Pool

Newmarket—Swimming in Newmarket may be the realization of the dreams of children next summer if the town council can do anything about it. A committee consisting of Councillors Renzius, Bowser, Morrison, VanZant and Birrell were appointed at Monday night's council meeting to find out if a pool could be made at the creek between Gorman and Lydia Sts.

Mayor Vale suggested that a small dam be constructed across the creek that would form a pool in the vacant property between the two streets. He said that the dam could be knocked out in the winter months and re-constructed again the following year. Other councillors said that there would have to be bathing houses erected and supervision of the pool.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Newmarket—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harman celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary on Sunday, Jan. 9. Four generations were represented in the family gathering. Mrs. C. Burch, Mrs. Harman's mother, who is 88 years old, was able to be present. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. N. Darrach and son, Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Harman and son, Larry, Holland Landing, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bellar and two daughters of Bradford.

A. N. Belugin Made Chairman Newmarket-Sutton District Board

Newmarket—A. N. Belugin was made chairman of the new high school district board at the first meeting held at the high school on Tuesday night. The name of the board was established as the Newmarket-Sutton District High School board.

Reeve Arthur D. Evans gave a short address of welcome at the meeting on behalf of the town council. Also present were the reeve of Georgina and the reeve of East Gwillimbury who cited Mount Albert's situation where there is a closed continuation school, as the only such case in Ontario.

Mount Albert continuation school was closed a year ago last fall when its board went on the understanding that it would join the district, which had not yet been formed at the time. Since then the public school board has used the building for one public school class and has carried the debt.

The new district board automatically takes over the assets and liabilities from the former Newmarket high school board and also those of Sutton and Mount Albert, according to the Continuation Schools Act. There was a lengthy discussion over the technicalities of taking over these assets and liabilities from Sutton and how the act applied in the case of Mount Albert.

O. M. McKillop, district inspector for public schools, asked who really owned the Mount Albert building and whether it could be used as a public school. It was concluded that arbitration boards would be appointed for both Sutton and Mount Albert to conduct any disputes arising out of either situation. Such arbitration boards, according to the act, consist of a representative from the district board, one from the former board of the school in question and also the clerk of the municipality where the school is situated. The board does not expect

Co-Op Opens New Hatchery Capacity 60,000 Chicks

Newmarket—The former Bray Chick hatchery building on Cotter St., purchased some months ago by the Newmarket District Co-Operative, has been renovated throughout, and has now opened for business. The new manager is Harry Lloyd, raised in Newmarket, who has had some 20 years in the hatchery business.

The new plant has a capacity of 60,000 eggs and chicks, and a brooding capacity of 10,000 chicks. The building has been re-insulated and equipped with automatic controls for regulating temperatures so that a change overnight of 40 degrees in outside temperatures will have no effect on the interior temperature.

The hatchery is now fully accredited, all flocks having passed two clean tests, moving them one step further away from the bane of the poultry raiser, pullorum. The capacity of the new plant offers a wider range of breeds and cross-breeds than was possible before, according to Harold

Inaugural Ceremony Starts 1949 Council

Aurora—Monday morning the Aurora council, mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve officially took office for 1949 in a quiet inaugural ceremony in the council chambers. Following a brief scriptural reading and prayer led by Rev. Harvey Howie, Mayor Crawford Rose welcomed those present and expressed his belief that 1948 was a good year for Aurora.

Each of the guests were called on in turn and wished the council all the best for the coming year. Rev. W. O. Mulligan stressed the fact that a town like Aurora, which is in close proximity to a large city, is no longer the self-contained unit it was in the past and finds it difficult to maintain its standards. Dr. G. W. Williams representing both the board of health and the high school board, disclosed that in general the health of the town is good and that the high school problem is far from being solved. In tendering his congratulations, former mayor Ross Linton expressed the hope that Reeve A. Cook, after devoting nine years to council, would be made warden of York county. He also disclosed that the York County Memorial hospital has now added a new, modern laundry and a new chest x-ray unit which will be used to check each patient when he or she first enters the hospital.

Speaking briefly, Deputy-Reeve R. H. Corner stated that he would like to see Yonge St. resurfaced this year and the vacant property beside the fire hall sold for the establishment of businesses. Commenting on the school question, Frank Underhill expressed the hope that something would soon be done about it and commented, “it is up to us to leave our town a good place for our children to live in.” W. C. Corbett expressed his belief that council had a strenuous year ahead of them. As last year, Vic Jones stated simply, “there's been a lot of talk, now, let's get down to work.”

Motion pictures will complete the program.

The annual meeting held in conjunction will be kept very brief to enable everyone to make the greatest use of Mr. Scott's store of knowledge. Refreshments will be served.

Special Collection

Fire Ruins Cottage At Lake Simcoe

Jackson's Point—Fire completely gutted the summer home owned by Wilfred Shanahan, Toronto, a week ago today on the Lakeshore Rd. opposite the Briars Golf and Country club. The house was not occupied but was heated. It was not known how the fire started.

The Sutton fire brigade was called but the building was in flames when they arrived. While the brigade was attempting to fight the blaze, members took the pump out on the ice of Lake Simcoe, a distance of 150 yards, to get water. One wheel broke through the ice and threatened to halt operations. The summer home had been decorated and newly furnished in the fall and damage was reported high.

Frank Grant, Oshawa.

During the evening Elsie Duffield was presented with a bouquet of roses. Following the installation ceremonies three films were presented by the Carling Conservations after which refreshments were served.

ANNUAL BANQUET WILL BE HELD JAN. 20

Mount Albert—The annual horticultural banquet will be held on Thursday, Jan. 20. The guest speaker will be Mr. Cruikshank, Toronto.

Newmarket—The price of milk for Newmarket consumers will go up one cent within the next few days, it was learned from Newmarket dairymen this morning. As soon as the dairies receive notice from the Milk Control board, the price of bottled milk will be raised. This may be tomorrow or Saturday, but at least by the beginning of the week.

The impending increase in the price of milk is the result of a new single price which farmers asked for and received following the decision of the Judge Cowan arbitration board for some 42 milk markets. Newmarket is one of the markets but it is believed that Aurora milk prices will not be affected yet.

The increase of bottled milk price in Newmarket brings it to the same price Toronto consumers are paying. Farmers who ship milk to Toronto distributors, however, are not getting as high prices for their milk as those markets affected by the Cowan decision. The Toronto producers' case was arbitrated by Judge Moon recently and according to the Toronto milk producers, they have hired a solicitor who is investigating the Moon decision on legal grounds. The Toronto distributors' association say that they will try and prove that the decision is illegal inasmuch as Judge Moon made the decision by surmising and not taking facts as evidence. They cite one point where Judge Moon took the marginer market into consideration which, they claim, does not enter the picture.

Fire In Home Forces Out Family

Lake Wilcox—Early Wednesday morning three-year-old Shirley Atkinson saved the lives of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Atkinson, when their frame dwelling near the eastern end of Lake Wilcox burst into flames.

Awakened by his daughter, Mr. Atkinson attempted to get his family outside but found the way through the living-room blocked by flames. Smashing the bedroom window with a chair, Mr. Atkinson was able to get his wife and daughter safely out of the building.

Mr. Atkinson, a watchmaker by trade, was fearful over the safety of not only the house and furnishings but his tools, watches and precision instruments. Attempting to gain entrance from the rear he found his way blocked. However, with the aid of a neighbor, Herb Grounds, and his family, Mr. Atkinson managed to break into the burning building from the front. A bucket brigade was formed, the fire being brought under control by the time the Aurora fire department arrived.

Mr. Atkinson, working late, had gone to bed around 2 a.m. at which time his daughter had crawled into bed with her parents. He was awakened by Shirley around 4.15. Mr. Atkinson had high praise for the firemen. “Instead of charging in with axes and hoses and breaking and dirtying things, the Aurora firemen were very careful. They were careful of the floors and furnishings, and by using their heads they prevented more serious damage and loss.” Damage is estimated at $200.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

The weekend was a strenuous one for the staff of The Era and Express. Anyone who was able to enter the office over the planks, rollers and up-ended furniture might have thought we had begun wrecking operations instead of moving a linotype, the job we were doing. The linotype is that most intricate and temperamental piece of machinery which sets the type from which the newspaper is printed.

It is an expensive machine and delivery is difficult so we considered ourselves rather fortunate when we learned of one which could replace one of present three which had become obsolete to our operations. The machine was delivered Saturday morning so Friday was spent in moving out the old machine and clearing the way for the new one.

To the care which is required in moving the delicate machine is added the difficulty of heaviness, balanced on a small base. Our machine was already on wooden skids so that the job was simplified but our progress was marked by a trail of parts off the machine which had to be removed before it could pass through the doorways. By Saturday morning it was out of the way just as the new machine arrived by truck. It took us almost two hours to manoeuvre it off the truck, and most of the afternoon to get it in position. But the job is done and we are the better for the new machine.

Harvest Triumphant

There is a controversy raging over statements made by radio commentator John Fisher that Canada has not remembered its history in terms readily assimilated by children. It seems quite true. What Canadian heroes are remembered as vividly as Americans remember Washington and Lincoln, Ben Franklin and Ethan Hale, and a host of others about whom the colorful tales, which make the folklore of a nation, have grown?

And in another orbit of national development, what names are remembered in Canada as vividly as Ford and Firestone, Edison and the Wright brothers and McCormack are remembered in the U.S.? Yet Canada had its industrial giants just as the United States, and in their own country, they contributed just as much. They should be remembered, their story told, their value considered if Canadians are to know the full story of their country's growth.

"Harvest Triumphant" is the story of the Massey family, and indirectly, the other families whose development and sale of farm implements has helped in the making of Canada the strong agricultural nation it is. The book was written not as a hymn of praise to the Massey family, but as the colorful chronicle of industrial achievement which in many ways rivals or surpasses the achievements of our neighbors.

Merrill Demison has written an excellent book, one which all Canadians will enjoy reading, but in which farmers will take a particular interest because the growth of the Massey company is essentially a reflection of the growth of Canada and specifically, Canadian agriculture. The lack of space limits a review of the many highlights of the 100-year growth of the firm but Canadians can take pride in the triumph on which the book closes: in 1947, Massey-Harris sales were made in 72 countries; its sales in Canada and the increase in the volume of sales far exceeded that of American manufacturers (an answer to those pessimists who forever fear the threats of United States superiority).

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Plans have been submitted by the board of governors of St. Andrew's College for buildings which will be located just north of Aurora, according to the files of 25 years ago. The cost is said to be in the neighborhood of $500,000. The land purchased by the college is 200 acres. Buildings will be completed by December, 1925, it is said.

William Keith, Esq., M.P.P. Clerk Anderson and the editor of The Era were favored with invitations to Mayor Walton's banquet on Monday night.

Hamilton's Garage met with a big loss on Friday morning of last week. The flat roof of their new building on the corner of Main and Ontario Sts. collapsed with the weight of snow. Two cars were damaged.

Last Friday night the choir of St. Andrew's church were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cane at their home on Prospect Ave. Miss May Ross and Miss McPherson were prize winners of contests.

At the return hockey match between Bradford and Newmarket, nearly 200 were present although many thought the game was cancelled because of mild weather. The tie was broken in the overtime play with Newmarket taking a 2-1 victory. Charles Townsley was the "star" player of the evening.

There were only 26 at the meeting of the Epworth league on Monday evening. Mr. Angus West presided and Miss L. Wickett had charge of the meeting. Miss Warren read the lesson scripture and Miss Margaret Patterson gave a beautiful instrumental. The address by Rev. A. J. Mann was greatly appreciated.

Miss Girda Davis, Toronto, spent the weekend with Miss Eleanor Elvidge.

According to the files of 50 years ago, four young men of East Gwillimbury were summoned to appear before Squire Jackson next Monday for misconduct up at Sharon one night last week. If charges are sustained, no doubt a pecuniary penalty will be imposed, calculated to teach them that those who transgress the civil or moral law, must sooner or later bear the consequences.

Rev. E. A. Haines, a graduate of Newmarket high school and an intimate friend of the editor, has accepted the pastorate of Mount Pleasant Baptist church at Newark, N.J.

The first meeting of council for 1899 convened at 11 a.m., Monday. Present were Mayor Cane, councillors Robertson, Roadhouse, Hughes, Smith and Somerville. The necessary declarations of qualification for office were signed by all except Mr. Somerville, a change in the assignment disqualifying him. The mayor said that the question of a fire hall on Prospect Ave., suitable for holding a reel with hose and which also might be used as a polling booth should have consideration.

A by-law was passed re-appointing W. C. Widdifield as high school trustee. J. A. Bastedo was also appointed auditor on nomination of the mayor and M. W. Bogart by council. Messrs. Smith and Hughes were instructed to examine the north furnace in the market and have necessary repairs attended to.

Nearly 500 people saw the game between St. George's, Toronto, and Newmarket. It was one of the fastest and best played games of hockey ever seen here. Harold Brunton was referee. The game ended in a 5-5 tie. Playing for the home team were J. Kennedy, T. Kelly, J. Kelly, G. Simpson, W. Trivett, F. Lloyd and C. Pipher.

The Editorials:

Will It Always Be Like This?

It is likely that the milk shippers will oppose the price award of the Moon board for Toronto markets on legal grounds. Should they win their case, a new price settlement may be made, one more in keeping with the shippers' demands. This process is time consuming and costly, and certainly does not guarantee results. Nor would success in having a new price settlement be a guarantee that next year would not see a repetition of the same difficulties. Nor the year after, nor the year after that.

A consistently satisfactory agreement between farmer and distributor or processor in the marketing of produce is the exception, mainly because the farmer is more dependent upon the distributor or processor than they are dependent upon the individual farmer. If one farmer's price is too high, there is another whose price is not so high. The farmer, more often than not, must move his produce as fast as he can before it spoils. The processor or distributor can often afford to wait.

This inequality of bargaining position has been overcome in some lines of the development of co-operative marketing facilities. The marsh growers have helped their lot considerably with the construction of a large cold storage plant. Why couldn't the same principles that established that co-operative enterprise be applied to the marketing of milk? At first glance the obstacles seem insurmountable, but they have been overcome in other centres where milk pools are successful means of marketing milk at profit to the producer and less cost to the consumer. The milk pool system as it is now used in Hanover, for example, might be impractical for Toronto, but surely there are features of it that are adaptable to Toronto conditions.

The milk producers will always face the threat of delays and unequal judgments as long as they continue to market their milk under existing conditions. If for one year fortune may smile at them, another year her face might be turned away. The answer, as we see it, is to build for an increasing control over the distribution and processing of milk, to shake off the traditional methods of sale to distributor or processor. Only when the farmer has direct control of his product from his fields to the consumer will he be free of the uncertainty of price and market which is so discouraging to profitable farm production.

Credit To Office-holder

The arrival of 1949 did not bring a lessening to the problems which face the municipal bodies of Newmarket. Last year had its quota of difficulties inherent in administering a growing municipality bid fair to increase proportionately.

The very rockiness of the road ahead has deterred many a would-be candidate to public office, making those who have sought office and those who now hold office the more to be respected for their willingness and courage. Now, before too active partisanship obscures the public service of these men and women, we pay our tribute to those in office.

Whatever the disagreement, and there have been many, we acknowledge, as should every citizen, the effort put forth on behalf of the municipality for the dubious rewards of hard work, abuse and discouragement that are the fruits of public office. We doubt if any, other than the families of office holders, realize the amount of time which must be spent on municipal business, and in some instance at personal cost.

There are some who by the acceptance of the voters' confidence feel they have contributed their share: the holding of the office with the minimum of its responsibilities is deemed sufficient. They have been a minority in Newmarket's public life. The office-holder in Newmarket shoulders an amazing amount of time-consuming detail, most of it unknown and unappreciated, as part of his job.

It is, perhaps, a left-handed compliment to the office-holder that there are so few who aspire to follow them down the hard road they travel.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Other Editors' Opinions

The Printed Word—Merchants in one Canadian town have learned how to damage it as a shopping centre. It seems that two or three years ago, when customers were kind and anxious, these merchants decided they weren't going to stay open Saturday nights any longer, nohow. Farmers would just have to come to town in the daytime, whether or not they had to rush right back to milk and feed the stock and thereby miss the pleasant late-evening hours meeting folk from the other concessions.

One merchant refused to go along with the others. He kept his store open, though business fell off, because people weren't going to that town just to shop at one store, and not a very big store either.

The same merchant owns two other stores, each in a town not far away as time is reckoned in these days of paved roads and decent cars. And this merchant, who like all good merchants, has a keen ear for the music of the cash register at work, reports that his sales in the two Saturday-night towns went up nicely week by week and have stayed up, while in the town where the merchants went modern, Saturday sales dropped way down. And have stayed down. The town, where of a Saturday parking space used to be as scarce as a buggy became as quiet as a Sunday in Fergus. Advertising fell off in the local newspaper. Bank managers became a little less smiling. And the merchants among themselves began to wonder who the heck had the idea in the first place.

They're all running old-fashioned stores again. Open on Saturday night to serve country people who want to buy on that night. But all is not well, yet, for some of the old customers have come to like shopping in one or other of the towns. And a shopping habit, like others, is often hard to break.

One historian says that the late Timothy Eaton had a fetish that customers must come first in his mind and he was always anxious to have the goods they wanted, at the price they could pay, and he was willing to serve them at any reasonable hour they wished to be served, excepting Sunday but including Saturday night. There's an allegedly modern idea, born in the mind of some lazy merchant, that the customer will be ready with cash in hand when the merchant gets good and ready to unlock the door. There are others, of course, who recollect that Mr. Eaton, with his idea that a merchant owed a duty to the public, was one of the most spectacularly successful merchants in this or any other country.

Fort Erie Times-Review—Radio humor, or what passes for it, at its worst approaches the level of the second-rate vaudeville stage. The listener who is bored by Fred Allen, Jack Benny or Edgar Bergen, however, can turn off his set with the knowledge that the sponsors of these gentlemen are paying the cost of putting them on the air. If their sales suffer in consequence, that is a matter for the business office and the advertising agents.

In Canada, where the listener pays for the privilege of listening to his radio, he has, theoretically, more concern with what goes on the air. When the CBC uses half an hour or an hour of valuable time to put one of its "sustaining" humorous programs on the air and the listener is not amused, he has a right to kick. He has paid for the right through his license fee and through his taxes, from which extraordinary expenditures of the CBC are met.

The right probably does the listener little good. If he protests about the feeble humor of such a program as Cross Section, the CBC will find its continuance justified by the praise of other people who like it. The later of classical music will be offset similarly by those who adore it, and the bobby-soxer lover of boogie-woogie is too busy to write.

The radio humorist deserves compassion as much as indignation. There isn't much humor going around these days. The slap-stick stuff that does for the comic strips and the radio comedians wears pretty thin by the time the gagmen have done their utmost in stealing and adapting each other's jokes. The humor that springs from wisdom and a certain attitude towards life is rare enough to be precious, and very difficult to put on the air. One can derive some amusement from the CBC's attempts to prove that it is the fountain-head of humor, as well as of musical taste but the amusement is the same as one feels when a fat man steps on a banana skin.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Remember our boy Junior, boss? Well he finally got back this morning from that assignment you sent him on New Year's day. Remember? You told him to go and interview all the people who were snowbound in these parts? Well he got himself snowbound right after he interviewed somebody who was also snowbound.

Our reporter not only finds the people and material to write about, he even re-enacts the whole occurrence himself so that he can give a first-hand account. The only trouble is he is sometimes late getting his stuff written up.

I noticed that a slight mist came in the front door of the office this morning and on further examination, I discovered that it was Junior. He was wet and his clothes and hair were matted. He looked as if he had been buried for a week, which he had.

I gingerly poked a question at him. "Would it be too impudent of me to ask where you have been all year?" I asked.

"It was this way," said Junior, around whom was spreading a large pool of water as he thawed out. "The boss sent me on this wild goose chase during the big snows about interviewing snowbound people. I got to thinking later that if I could get to the people who were snowbound, how could they be snowbound? This bothered me for some time but unabashed, I longed to our advertising man.

"I drove for two blocks before I got stuck and then struck out on my snowshoes."

"Did you find anyone who was snowbound?" I asked.

"Yes, at a gas station on one of the king's highways not far from town. I found a stranded American tourist and his wife who had been on a skiing expedition up north. I was just of the provincial snow ploughs came along unexpectedly and buried me under a mountain of snow."

"And you were buried for more than a week?"

Had Mr. Eager Beaver Knife
"Yes, astounding though it may seem, I was. Fortunately I had a tin of Spam and my Eager Beaver Handicapped Jack-knife with an opener attachment along with me. I made myself a little cave in the snow and got an air hole through and subsisted on the Spam. I ate snow for water."

"And you had to wait until the snow melted before you got out eh? Or you might have been there yet."

"Yes, but think of the story I can write," said Junior.

"Junior, my boy," I says to him, "why don't you get out of this dirty business while you still have a chance. You are not the type to be in the newspaper business. It's going to kill you before you reach your prime. What you need is some nice steady job with good security and where the mortality rate is not so high. Think of your wife who is always worrying about you, not knowing whether she will see your shining face again when you leave your little home every day. I tell you, it's a beastly game and I advise you to get out of it."

"No," said Junior, "we newspapermen must go on in spite of the hazards. Besides I have to get busy and do this story about the great snows."

"But Junior," I said, "we had all the news about the big snow last week while you were buried under that drift. There is no use doing that story anyway because nobody would believe it."

Junior looked like a broken man. Downcast, he sat there while the water poured off his soaking clothes. "I guess I am just a failure. After I get a great big story like this all about the snows, I am too late and it goes and melts like spring and spoils all my copy about the snows," he sighed.

I told him that fate was like that and that it even snowed in California over the weekend.

He thoughtfully scratched his head for a moment. Then he brightened up and said that in his opinion California, as a winter resort, was on its way out. "I shall write an article about shifting climatic zones," he said.

Boss, I am worried about our boy Junior.

What is a farmer? What does a man have to be able to do farm?

He must be able to use carpenter tools, blacksmith tools, set a horse-shoe, glaze a light in the barn window, know how to care for sick stock, fix implements, tractors, do cement work, be a butcher, salesman, purchasing agent, bookkeeper. These are only a few of the things that a farmer must be able to do. The farm team

The old grey mare is not what she used to be. In this case they were not grey: one was black and the other one brown. An auctioneer would have said: "Now gentlemen, here is a pair of real good slaves. What do I hear for them?" This is what the world thinks of the team on the farm. But not so with the farm family. Dad remembers when the children came down the back lane to have a ride up on the horses. Their little legs could not hold on to the round back of the horse. The children fell off the horse. The mare stepped over—not on—the child and then stomped so the child could be put on again.

The first time the boy took the team out with the drag harrow, he turned too short and the harrow went up in the air, the team stopped so no harm was done. When the boy and girl bring their city friends to the farm for a weekend, they cannot understand why such a fuss is made over the old team. When the time comes when the old team loses their teeth, Dad tells Mother to call up the fox farm. When the truck comes, is it any wonder Dad takes a walk down the back lane?

When Bessie Calves
When Bessie the cow has a calf down in the pasture, Dad put the calf around his neck to carry it to the barn. The calf must nurse its mother until the milk gets good. Then the fun starts when Dad tries to teach the calf to drink. Dad soon gets wise to let the calf miss one or two meals before he tries to teach it to drink.

The individuality of the farm animals is remarkable. Each cow has her own way. Some are never mischievous while others are always in trouble. The fault may not be with the cow when she goes through the fence. It is never in the spring when there is plenty of feed. The cow that is the cause of many a farmer talking in a way that the preacher would not like to hear, would not give so much trouble if she were not hungry. The cow on the farm only asks for food, shelter, and to be handled gently.

What a fight there is for a price on milk. Many people make a living from the cow on the farm. There are 430,000 dairy farms, 1,100 creameries, 900 cheese factories, 173 combined butter and cheese factories. There are milk pasteurizing plants, distributing plants, and many others.

The farmer who starts all his business has a fight on his hands to get a fair price for whole milk.

Keep Them Happy
The farmer's duty to the farm animals is to keep them supplied with food. Nothing hurts the farmer more than in the spring when feed is running low and he has to cut down on the rations of his stock. He must go out and buy feed. A little less than half of our milk goes into butter. We drink about 2 1/2 billion quarts of fluid milk per year, eat 723 million pounds of cheese, 23 1/2 million gallons of ice cream, besides many by-products. We farmers have to go to the barn in the dark morning, wade through the snow in the winter, to start this great industry.

Tells How To Combat
Disorganization

Church, civic and social activities are once again in full swing.
To participate in these affairs and at the same time maintain a well run home keeps the most efficient homemaker on her toes.
So here we are with some practical suggestions. When we read the following item sent to us by Anne Allan, Hydro Home Economist, we knew it would receive a warm welcome from our readers. Maybe they'll help you sail through your day with energy to spare.

Interruption, not procrastination, is the thief of time. Interruptions are upsetting for numerous reasons. Maybe if you understand why, you will be calmer.

Unpreparedness. You begin every household task with a mistaken idea (although it may be subconscious) that you will be permitted to complete it in uninterrupted bliss. Consequently you are unprepared for time-out.

Frustration. Your thoughts, which direct your actions, move in a stream of consciousness.
It's like water flowing downhill
— once the stream is started, it doesn't want to stop. Consequently, you feel frustrated if stopped suddenly.

Anger. This is a natural human reaction. The adrenal glands pour adrenalin into the system which upsets the balance of the entire body when one is angry.

Confusion. You feel confused because you are temporarily "unbalanced." That's why you put sugar into your cake twice and cut out the trouser leg too short.

HOW CAN WE COMBAT
DISORGANIZATION?
Change your attitude. Accept the possibility of interruptions as a normal part of your housewife's job, as being called out in the middle of the night is part of a doctor's job, or walking in the rain, part of a postman's job.

Start your day right. Say to yourself, "I'll remain calm today, no matter how maddening the interruptions are."

Plan your day's work to allow ten or more minutes for interruptions in each hour's work.

Don't get angry. It's not the interruption that does the damage, it's your anger. So, encourage the cheerful habit.

Put your unconscious mind to work. Relax when you can and then do things calmly.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WILL MEET ON JANUARY 20

Newmarket — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on Thursday, Jan. 20, at 2.30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. H. A. Jackson, 12 Raglan St.

Hospitalization fees are to be paid at this meeting.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Brillinger, will be on historical research.
A full attendance is requested.

Ski Trails

Hurray, the bus will be running this Sunday! After weeks of delays and waiting, it finally happened. If skiing conditions permit, the bus will leave the taxi station at 10 a.m. and 1.45 p.m., go north on Main St. and out Davis Dr. It will return at 5 from the club house. Later, if prospects look good, the same schedule will be followed on Saturdays.

This year our aims and purposes seem to have been sadly thwarted. Last year, we felt we had succeeded in giving the 160-odd members of the club a fairly satisfactory season.
Because of this, the executive decided to branch out into competition skiing. There is plenty of natural talent in the town and better terrain cannot be found

Ladies' Softball
Teams Banqueted

Barrie and district softball league clubs had a big turn-out at the Parkside Pavilion, Midland, last Thursday for its annual banquet and social evening.
Major event of the evening was the presentation by league president Geo. Storey of the trophy, emblematic of the Barrie and district softball crown to Midland "Parkside" champions of 1948. The trophy was received by Capt. Pat Beteau and Muriel Rawn, battery mates of the winning team. Crests were also turned over to the winners.

All four managers, Frank Courtney (Newmarket), Frank Allen (Copacos), Archie Thomson (Valley's), and Chas. Parker (Midland), indicated they would be back this summer with teams.
President Geo. Storey said in his address the league might expand in the coming campaign to include Orillia and Collingwood.
Bracebridge was also mentioned as a possible entry.

Norm Thompson and Chuck VanZant, coaches of the two finalists last year, had a brief innings in the speech department. It was then the ladies' turn to have their say headed by Pat Bateau (Midland), Dorothy Miller (Valley's), and Edith Hare, Copacos.
Guest speaker of the evening was Ken Robinson, recreation director of Barrie, and Ken Somers (Midland Free Press). The evening closed with films and dancing.

Members and guests from Newmarket making the trip were Mona Dean, Betty Van-Zant, Marg Arnold, Phyllis McInnis, Lois Blight, Mary Osborne, Lois Manning, Edna McGrath, Audrey McClymont, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hisey, Frank Courtney, Chas. VanZant, Bob Wallace,
Bill VanZant, Ted Arnold, Elby
Ruthven, Geo. Hudson and Geo.
Haskett, Jr.

much nearer than Collingwood.
To this end, we have sent two of the members to the ski school with the generous aid of the recreation council. However, the scarcity of snow has cut off fully a month of skiing so far and has left the trails bare and dangerous.
There will be a meeting of the executive at 16 Victoria St., Friday night at 8 p.m.—Dick Edwards.

MORRISON-CASE RITES AT ST. HILDA'S

The chapel of St. Hilda's College, Toronto, was the setting for the marriage on December 30 of Jean Forsyth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Edward Case, Newmarket, to Mr. Kenneth Lloyd Morrison, Toronto, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Lloyd Morrison, Almonte. The groom's father officiated, assisted by Provost R. S. K. Seeley of Trinity College. Miss Janua Garlich played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a portrait gown of bridal satin, made with molded basque and gathered skirt forming a circular train. The bodice had large sleeves and a sheer yoke encrusted with appliques of guipure lace. A chaplet of orange blossoms held her finger-tip veil and she carried a crescent of bouvardia, white roses, narcissus and pinocchio roses.

Her attendants were Miss Vivian Martin of Peterboro and Miss Peggy King of Newmarket. Their gowns were of emerald green faille taffeta, made in bouffant style with cascading side peplums. They wore matching mittens and carried bouquets of scarlet carnations and red tulips, yellow button mums and Ophelia roses with matching coronets.

Mr. George Morrison of Sault Ste. Marie, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were the bride's brothers, Messrs. Fred and George Case.

At the reception at Alexandra Palace, the bride's mother wore a gown of ashes of roses silk with honey-colored willow trimmed hat. The groom's mother wore black lace with white accessories.

For travelling the bride wore a wool gabardine suit in eye-shadow blue, flower-trimmed black hat and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison will live in Toronto.

WELLER - HUMES

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Manse, Minnedosa, Man., December 9, 1948, when Rita Jean, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Humes, Basswood, Man., became the bride of George Robert Weller, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weller, Keswick. Rev. David Conly, M.A., performed the ceremony which was witnessed by the bride's parents.

The bride wore a turquoise blue suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. After the ceremony, the happy couple left for Keswick, where they will reside.

Homemakers' Exchange

There are several winter apples which are specially suited to be eaten raw. McIntosh, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Northern Spy, Winesap and Jonathan are all excellent for crunching raw either for dessert or between meals.

Rhode Island Greening, Northern Spy, Jonathan, King, Stark, Rome Beauty and Winesap are good cooks. All make good pies. The Greening will go to pieces when cooked and so makes excellent sauce but does not bake well. Northern Spy, Winesap and King apples hold their shape when cooked. Rome Beauties are perfect bakers and are good for sauce and pudding too.

RED APPLE TARTS

6 Medium apples
1 Cup water
1/4 Cup sugar
A few drops red coloring
6 Baked pastry tart shells
Peel and core apples. Boil sugar and water two minutes. Add red coloring. Simmer apples in syrup until bottom half is cooked, turn and cook until whole apple is tender. Drain and place an apple in each tart shell. Boil syrup three minutes longer, cool and pour over apples in tart shells. Serve with whipped cream. Yield: six servings.

APPLESAUCE PUDDING

3 Cups sweetened applesauce

2 Egg yolks
1/4 Tsp. grated lemon rind
1/4 Tsp. vanilla 2 Egg whites
1/4 Tsp. salt
3 Tbsp. brown sugar
1/4 Tsp. vanilla

Place applesauce in a bowl. Beat egg yolks, add lemon rind and the 1/4 tsp. vanilla. Add to applesauce. Place mixture in a baking dish. Set dish in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 15 minutes. Make a meringue of the remaining ingredients. Heap on apple mixture, return to oven and bake ten minutes longer. Serve hot or cold with cream. Yield: six servings.

BAKED APPLE SUPREME

3 Large apples, perfectly red
1/2 Cup sugar 1 Cup water
2 Tsp. lemon juice
3 Tbsp. mincemeat or jam
Wash apples and cut in half crosswise. Scoop out core, being careful not to break skin. Boil sugar and water five minutes and add lemon juice. Arrange apples in shallow baking dish. Fill centres of each with mincemeat or jam and pour syrup over all. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until tender, about 25 minutes. Remove apples to serving dishes and boil syrup until slightly thickened. Pour over apples and chill. Yield: six servings.

Pee-Wee and Bantam Big Leagues Try Again

By GEORGE HASKETT, JR.
If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. That's what our youngest hockey teams, bantams and pee-wees, intend to do this Saturday. With last Saturday's games going by the boards owing to the soft ice, it will be action for all seven teams this Saturday morning. For the benefit of all who missed last week's schedule here's how the teams will square off this week:
8 a.m., Pittsburgh "Hornets" vs. Cleveland "Barons" (pee-wee); 9 a.m., Chicago "Black Hawks" vs. Toronto "Maple Leafs" (bantam); 10 a.m., St. Louis "Flyers" vs. Hershey "Bears" (pee-wee); 11 a.m., Montreal "Canadiens" vs. Chicago "Black Hawks" (bantam). All of which makes four hours of hockey, 105 hockey players.

PRACTICE THURSDAY
Coach Joe Peat and Manager Barney Revell put out the info that Thursday evening all the juveniles are requested to be on hand at the arena. First practice session is slated for after the Bradford-Newmarket intermediate game. Better be there as the league activity opens on Tuesday of next week.

Weather permitting one of the best junior games of the season should be unveiled at Aurora arena tonight. Unionville Juniors, who have spanked Uxbridge 11-1 and 8-4 in their first two starts, will provide the opposition for the Meteors, and the southerners coached by Jackie Watson of Markham Millionaires fame are reported to have a club that will make Aurora and Weston step. Several features make the clash especially interesting. First of all, Bill Boychoff, who played with Aurora last winter, will be with the visitors ready to trade bumps with the Simmons clan. Boychoff, according to all reports, has never been released by Aurora, and if he so desired, he could play with the Meteors. In addition, earlier this year he left Unionville where he is employed, for Galt and played five or six games in junior "A", again without a release. We had no illusions that Boychoff would stick in company that last, but it is a far cry from former years, that any player can play that many games with one club, and then of all things revert back to junior "C". Whether or not there will be repercussions remains to be seen.

Next on the agenda is the matter of Skippy Taylor. Last week we thought he was with Sutton juniors, and only learned differently at press time, too late for correction. Taylor, it now appears, is with Unionville. Sutton juniors or intermediates could readily use his services. If Sutton is his residence it would seem that Aurora is his closest club. If he is employed in Toronto, then he can't qualify for any club in the local group by reason of the population ruling. Taylor has played intermediate "B", junior "C", and "B" in successive years. This is another item that presents possibilities for future argument.

Dougie Moore and Norm Stunden, the opposing netminders, should provide feature rivalry. Both boys hail from Richmond Hill, and Moore was Stunden's understudy with Richmond Hill juniors. Moore then made the grade with Victoria Square juniors, and last winter he and Stunden alternated in the nets for Stouffville. Moore has two more years, while Stunden must be in his last year of junior hockey. Norm will be playing his best for brother-in-law Jackie Watson while Doug will be trying to keep his two straight shutout record intact. Stunden is popular with the Aurora fans for he's played baseball for Aurora the past two years, and diamond mates Bill McGhee, Ron Simmons and Jack Andrews will be giving him the old razor. Polly Minton, ace scorer, and Bun Sellars, both with Stouffville last season, give Unionville two real threats up front, and the rest of the team is much the same as last year, only with added experience and confidence.

Weston Juniors will not have any home games until February, when their new arena will be ready, they hope. Next winter they expect to have artificial ice. Roy Collings, who played a great game for Bradford last Saturday night and likewise will do so tonight in Newmarket, is coaching Bradford's O.M.H.A. midget entry this winter. It's a matter of more than passing interest to see Roy Collings in the line-up of Bradford intermediates. Roy, better known as "Mutt," Bruce and Irwin are brothers while Dodger Collings is their uncle. Memory Corner finds that it's just 21 years ago that Dodger, who was christened "Norman", joined Newmarket Redmen. In the 1926-27 junior campaign, the Redmen had lost out to Owen Sound Greys in the O.H.A. junior finals, 7-3 on the round. That crew lost Charlie Thoms, Sonny Townsley and Murray Lister via the age route as well as goalie Reg. Corbett. Goal presented no big difficulty as "Doc" Ames was ready for the job and for the other replacements, Andy Davis, Stan Smith and Fred Thompson turned to Bradford. They drafted Ellis Pringle (still playing with Sutton Greenshirts) to fill in for Thoms on the defence, and Dodger Collings and Red Waller to pick up the vacancies on the forward line. The team that year read as follows: goal, Ames; def., Pringle, Clarence "Sergeant" Perreault and Graham "Babe" Teasdale; forwards, Bill Thoms, Doug Marshall, Fred Murray, Bruce Trivett, Collings and Waller. In the semi-finals, the Redmen ousted Kitchener 8-3, winning both games. In the finals they met the mighty Marlboros who had Red Horner, Harvey Jackson, Charlie Conacher and Shrimp McPherson among others in their line-up. Marlboros won the first game 2-1, and the second game was a 2-2 tie. Fans who saw the series still believe the Redmen to have been the better team of the two. It was the last junior team of strictly district players that the Redmen had. Actually it was the first team in canaltown junior circles to have "imports."

On The Alleys

Duds turned in a 3,400 count Monday to put away another four points. They are now running well in front of the opposition with 35 marks. Humbugs and Nitwits, the latter of whom took three points Monday, are tied with 26. Shmoos have 22. Blanks and Owls even at 22. Blanks were the other bulk point winners coming out of the scramble with four points. The little wooden pegs were being knocked over at a terrific clip Monday. Audrey Benton was top individual performer with three steady games for 677 (239-228-210). Nearest rival was Ella Wilkins with 648. Phyl McInnis with 639 and Elsie Cline with 637. Other high triples were scored by Irene Abbott 581, Ethel Winters 579, Hester Clark 575, Hazel Bowser 573, Floss Gibson 547, Jeanne Gatti 543, Edith Wilson 543, Edna McGrath 528, Laura Gilkes 504, Marion Stark 502.

Frank Burch set the pace in the Friday night mixed league at Ernie's Bennett's North End Alleys with 637 (207-248-182). Earl Burrows 633 (223-150-280) next in line, his 260 effort taking high single mark. Doris Simmerman — can't keep us folks from down Eagle St. way out of the limelight all the time — led the ladies with a 465 triple (170-133-162). Grace Walther's 206 was the high single effort. Wildcats and Smoothies are tied for top with 38. Rinky Dinks have 23, and Tomahawks close behind with 21.

Among the Thursday Nighters at Smith's, Jean Wrightman's 577 headed the list. Nearest competitor was Norma Peel with 524. Hazel Bennett's 272 drew down high single.

The Ladies' Lawn Bowlers were back in action Friday. S.O.S. climbed back into competition with a three-point gain to boost them to 15. Wildcats lead with 17, followed by Indians with 16. Ann Osborne led the parade with a 501 (243-154-104). Vivian Gibson posted a 440 (180-141-119) and Goldie Macnab clipped off a 434 (180-141-119).

Davis Leather League scores show Andy Cullen pencilling three fine games for 704 (201-289-214) putting him well in front of his fellow bowlers. Bill Townsley rolled up 657 (174-222-261) followed by Art Peppiatt with 646 (220-251-170) and Bernard Meffale in hot pursuit with 644 (231-200-213). Bill Townsley's men took home seven points, Andy Cullen's five, Jack Groves' two, and Bill Cullen's were goose-egged.

Meteors Set 'Em Up
For 25-0 Victory

Aurora Meteors set some kind of a scoring record for district junior O.H.A. hockey when they scored a 25-0 win over Sutton "Canadiens" on Thursday. Seven-hundred fans were on hand to see Red Mitchell's proteges make their first start of the regular schedule, and most of them stayed to the end to (a) see just how many goals could be scored in regulation time; (b) see if Dougie Moore in the nets would chalk up his second shutout of the year; (c) revel in the nifty passing plays that the Meteors unfolded. Unhappiest lad in the rink must have been Grant Thompson who tried his best, kicked out plenty of hot ones, but spent a good part of the evening hauling the puck from out of the rigging.

After the first five minutes there was no doubt as to the ultimate outcome — it was simply a question of how many. With eligible juniors like Bob Winch, Skippy Taylor and Bruce McMillen playing elsewhere the northern redshirts couldn't rate better than juvenile in calibre.

All the Aurora players hit the score sheet except Bill McGhee. Laurie Thoms scored five goals and added a couple of assists to lead the parade. Bill Wilkinson, Ron Simmons and "Spider" Gibson each gathered four goals, with Gibson getting three assists to tie Thoms for scoring honors. Tommy Brodie had three goals and an assist, while Doug. Ross and Bill Patrick went for two performer in the Office Specialty Ladies' League by a wide margin bowling three steady games for a 624 total. Frances Luesby hit over the 500 mark with a 582 including a 294 high single game. The Office Specialty Office-men's League teams right now are in a mad scramble for top honors. No less than three teams are tied for leadership, Burch's, Scott's and Parks', all with 28. Phimister's squad is back ten points at 18. High individual marks were set Tuesday by Geo. Phimister with a three-game total of 625 (271-213-141), his 271 being high single. Tommy Scott put together 245-190-165 for a 600 count. Herb Atkins' 257 put him right up there in the high single marks.

Cold weather has at last brought good ice to Newmarket Memorial Arena. Tonight the Metropolitan league has the opening game when the Hoffman Spitfires meet the Bradford visitors.

There will be two bands at the arena and skating acts will be featured between periods. Mayor Vale will officially open the arena by making the face-off.

NEWS 'n VIEWS

Say do you know what? We're in the blinking basement. What a horrible wash day thought. And us all set to wrap up this Metropolitan League too, and what happens. We land in Sutton and they land on us. Bradford and Aurora smack each other around for 70 long minutes of slushy going and it ends up a tie. That's the glory story on those two opening skirmishes. Didn't the years go rolling back for a good many as the Trolley League came to life after a long sleep. The paying clientele both at Sutton and Bradford weren't disappointed in those curtain raisers. It was 800 in the Sutton diggings with some 700 of the faithful a-rooting and a-tooting at Bradford. A good start — ice conditions being what they were.

As of yore a schmozzle popped at Bradford just like the old days, as the "Celery Kings" smacked home the equalizer just as the game closed. Matter of fact for one, your scribbler will never know whether 't was in or 't was out before the gong sounded. It was that close. Anyhow the blankety-blank rule book used to say the referee's tooter ended it all. Not so now; they've got in and kicked that around. The timer's gong now does the honors. Half the fans, players and officials, didn't hear the gong and the yammering was on. Referee Peters, doing a fine job out there, finally allowed the goal and sent the teams away into overtime.

Friday's loss by our "Spits" sent the top brass in search of drill grounds Sunday. They finally shuffled the team off to Collingwood. Believe me that town has come up with an artificial ice arena that has no equal in the north. Seats some 1,500 and standing room for an equal number. Ice surface is a match for the Toronto Gardens. The freeze plant installed only set them back $30,000. Not too bad a rap at that.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, Metro league pres. John Hines and Reeve Chas. Scott do the opening exercises at Sutton Friday. It was the prexy himself doing the honors at Bradford on Bath Night.

Tonight is it, opening home game of the Spits. Bradford the visitors. Two bands, skating acts between periods. Come down and see our arena — you'll be glad you did.
